THE BROWN ALUMNI FUND

BROWN UNIVERSITY • PROVIDENCE

TO ALL BROWN ALUMNI:

THIS year marks the beginning of a new policy for the Brown Alumni Fund, which will be explained later in this letter.

Last year the Fund was larger than ever before,—more than $75,000.00, but Brown Alumni as a whole, can and should do much better than this.

Will the time ever come, you ask, when the Fund won't say, "Thanks, but we expected MORE"? The answer is "probably no"; the reason is this:—

You may have been giving regularly up to the limit of your financial capacity, but many other Alumni have NOT been doing so. We, the trustees, have no means of segregating the "haves" from the "have nots", so we must assume theoretically that ALL alumni can give more, once they realize the need for it. No offense is meant to anyone and we feel that every alumnus will accept our appeal with the proper Brown spirit and "wear the cap if it fits".

Now it's one thing to ask for more money and it's another thing to get it. We propose, in the near future, not only to ask you for more money than you have ever given before, but also to MAKE IT POSSIBLE for you to give more money and at the same time to "feel no pain". This, we believe, will be brought about by our new policy which is as follows: —

1. We'll ask for a PLEDGE in addition to cash.
2. This pledge will be payable in one or more INSTALLMENTS.
3. Payments may be made at any time prior to June 30, 1946.
4. You will receive notices from the Fund Office when payments are due.

Why should this policy or plan raise more money for Brown than ever before without too much pain on your part? Let's assume that you have been giving $25.00 CASH every January. It evidently didn't hurt too much, or you wouldn't have paid it all at once. Therefore, the assumption is that you can just as easily give an additional $25.00 in April, or June, making a total contribution of $50.00 over a period of 6 months.

"So", you ask, "my total contribution for this year should be TWICE as much as my CASH PAYMENT for last year?"

You guessed it the first time, mister. That's what we think and we make no apologies or reservations. It's up to you to decide if we're right in YOUR case.

You can send in your cash and pledge for 1946 now, if you wish, although this is NOT a formal appeal. The first general appeal for 1946 pledges will follow in the near future. Only the Alumni Fund will be making such an appeal between now and Commencement.

Yours for Brown,

George T. Metcalf

Chairman of the Trustees

ALUMNI MONTHLY

VOL. XLVI NUMBER 4

A Challenge to the 1946 Alumni Fund

THIS ISSUE of the BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY is devoted largely to the Brown Alumni Fund. It contains the report of the 1945 campaign, which ended on a note of victory, for, even though we were still at war, the men of Brown helped sustain their University. This issue records the generosity of 4,752 individuals who contributed $75,623.79 as a free gift to Brown in confirmation of an educational purpose that is valid "in peace or war." Another $5,215. was given to the alumni Endowment. Brown acknowledges those gifts with deep gratitude, through more than 350 volunteer workers in the Fund corps.

But this issue also looks forward to a new campaign of the Brown Alumni Fund, its 33rd in a succession which has brought more than a million dollars to College Hill "in easy payments." This is the new appeal, the new challenge for 1946, given further importance by the fact that the general phase of the University's major drive to finance its extensive housing program will not begin until summer or fall. Between now and Commencement, the Alumni Fund has a clear field. (Contributions were running 28% ahead of last year, and the number of contributors was ahead by 37% in January.)

A LITTLE SKETCHING of background is in order. Just how necessary it is, we realized the other day after looking at the 1944 Alumni Fund Report, published only a year ago. It was full of photos of uniformed men in training on the Hill, hints of war research behind closed doors (no outsider suspected that an atom bomb was on its way), assurance that Brown was doing its part well. With fewer than 700 men in the College then—250 of them civilians—"the campus isn't over-populated," we read. A lot has happened in a year, although one prophecy stands. (We'll return to that startling, eloquent statement.)

In the term soon to end, Brown University has had the largest undergraduate enrollment in its history, following upon the leanest semester in decades last summer. When the next semester starts—March 4, the trend will continue upwards in a fashion to break further records. There have been estimates as high as 1600 undergraduate men in the College and more than 700 at Pembroke. The Navy unit, which at one time this winter numbered 686, will be down to 400 at least, it is expected. Another 400 civilians now at Brown will continue their studies and be joined by upwards of 400 Brown men returning from military service to complete their college education. More than 750 veterans in all may be on the campus, for of 300 or 400 new students at least half will probably be just out of the armed forces.

The September College may be even bigger, perhaps 2000. It could be 10 times that if the Admission Office yielded to all the pressure brought upon it these days. It has been handling 1000 inquiries a week of late, and some well qualified boys must inevitably be turned away.

ATTEMPTING TO MAKE PROVISION

ACCOMMODATIONS will be stretched to the limit to care for as many new students as possible, with top priority on admission going to boys who have previously been undergraduates at Brown, followed by those formerly accepted for admission though without actual previous matriculation. Navy dormitories will probably be Hegeman, Caswell, and Maxcy, returning others to civilian use. In addition, two new dormitories will be available: Beverly House on lower George St., a recent acquisition; and Hopkins House, the former Arsdale on Waterman St.

Brown's obligation to veterans is acknowledged and honored, but the improvised housing to accommodate their sudden arrival has been expensive. There was no income from the makeshift dormitory set up on short notice in the Lyman Gym, for the University did not charge for the use of the double-decker bunks in the "Old Soldiers' Home." Other expenses were large, extemporizations to cope with the swift end of the war. It cost $30,000 for the modest "tune-up" given the fraternity houses in reopening them, and the provision of extra dining halls last summer was no easy matter. The "full" College does not mean full coffers, for the added tuition and rentals finance only part of the costs of adjustment.

This does not purport to paint the whole picture of the University needs—only to suggest a few of the more striking or newer aspects of it. The Navy commitment has been large and impermanent, paid for on the basis of the Navy's definition of costs. In August President Wriston toted up a million dollars in contracts which were subject to cancellation on 30 days' notice. Much of the war research now terminated produced no profits but saved overhead expenses that would otherwise have been harsh. With the new term, more Faculty members return to the payroll, promotions for others take effect, more instructors are being added. Liberal education gains quality by the men who offer it.

NEW FACES in University Hall: William A. Jewett '41 (seated) is in charge of the Placement office, while Leonard Campbell '40 (left) and H. Eliot Rice '41 are new Admission Officers helping Dean Emery Walker cope with the avalanche of inquiries from prospective students. All three newcomers had commissions in the armed services.

Published seven times a year in August, October, December, January, February, April, and June by Brown University, Providence 12, R. I. Admitted to the second class of mail matter under the Act of August 24, 1912, at the Providence Post Office.

FROM THE TREASURER'S REPORT

▸ WHAT DOES SOME of this mean in terms of University finance? From the fiscal point of view, Brown is a two-and one-half million-dollar business these years. Even with stringent economies, even with many urgencies postponed, the expenses amounted to $2,604,832.09 for the year which ended (as did the Alumni Fund year) on June 30, 1945. The reports of the Treasurer and the Bursar covering that period show total income of $2,436,628.21, or an operating deficit of $168,203.88. Without the Alumni Fund it would have been $254,143.28.

To balance the indebtedness, the University dipped into its Stabilization Fund, dipped liberally. This fund, created in anticipation of just such a critical period, was built up from gifts to Brown from a relatively few generous, loyal persons in recent years. Of the $476,288.59 thus given, there remained in the fund last June 30 $178,519.49.

The care and wisdom with which University endowment has been managed over the years is reflected in the fact that 4¼% was earned and distributed to all funds which constituted the general investments. This yield compares with 4.18% in 1943-44; 4.21% in 1942-43; 4.47% in 1941-42; 4.53% in 1940-41. Income from investments of all funds last year was $540,691. In 1943-44 it had been $520,088. Total of investment assets at book value as of June 30, 1945, was $12,327,837.23. Book value of bonds and stocks was $10,917,688 as compared with market value of $12,204,261 —market value exceeding book value by $1,286,573, or 11.78%.

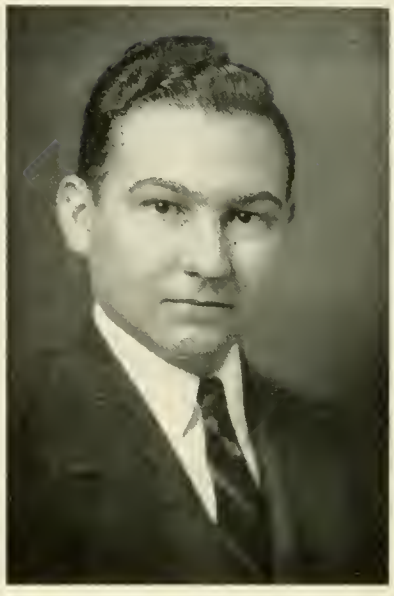

FACTORS IN THE DEFICIT

▸ CONTRIBUTING to the deficit of the year was the Division of Athletics, which finished the year in the red by $27,565.39. The Division's accumulated deficit is $118,219.74. The only sport which showed a net income during the year was football, where the profit was $16,576.88. Annual deficits notwithstanding the University considered it important to keep its athletic program on an active basis throughout the war. The next athletic balance sheet should appear in a more favorable light inasmuch as 1945 football receipts ran considerably ahead of the budgeted expectation and basketball has been drawing sizeable crowds.

A brief resume of the Treasurer's Statement of Income and Expense shows that the total expense for the College, the Graduate School, and Pembroke College for educational and general purposes was $1,789,316.44 in 1944-1945, as against an income for these purposes of $1,741,810.76—a loss of $47,505.68. Auxiliary enterprises and activities, which included residence halls, dining halls, Division of Athletics, Photographic Laboratory, Outing Reservation, and Yacht Club, showed an expense of $644,171.39 as against an income of $641,148.74—a loss of $3,022.65. Other non-educational expenses; that is, for financial aid to students and annuities, totaled $88,411.15 as against other non-educational income of $53,668.71, a difference of $34,742.44. There was transferred to principal and to reserves for research, contracts, rental properties, military credits, dining and residence halls, expenses totaling $62,933.11.

An analysis of expense shows that administration cost $200,775.04, departments of instruction $570,908.06, libraries $158,944.35, Division of University Extension $13,672.60, Division of University Health $32,429.65, Public Relations $27,686.13, general expense $176,032.42, operation and maintenance of educational plant $308,959.50, and residence halls, $171,313.65.

During the war years the University has had an operating deficit each year despite the efforts of the college officials to curtail expenses. The higher cost of living, of labor and materials, does not spare institutions of higher education. In 1942 the Operating Deficit was $14,996.58, in 1943 $120.15, in 1944 $60,373.72.

RETURNED to his duties as Executive Secretary of the Brown Alumni Fund is James W. Gurll '38, on leave for four years as Naval officer and now back for a leading role in the 1946 Fund campaign.

▸ THE WAR HAS BEEN COSTLY to Brown in a financial sense, and reconversion is an expensive process, too. As one University officer put it, "Instead of patching, postponing, and extemporizing, the need now is for straight replacement and rehabilitation of so much." Shortages of money, manpower, and material crippled old maintenance schedules. The Library and other elements in the educational plant must make headway again. Laboratory apparatus has suffered from the wear and tear of war use. "We could put every dollar of income justifiably into books, materials, and equipment," in President Wriston's opinion.

In other senses, too, rebuilding has begun. All science departments had a heavy access of students during the war. You can imagine the load on the Physics lab facilities with double normal enrollment. Two of every five students have been engineers in the last two years, compared with a prewar ratio of one in seven. But now, also, the liberal arts come out from under the shadow of the military. Nurtured mainly by Pembroke of late, they regain their rightful place.

▸ WE SPOKE OF PROPHECY. A statement, made a year ago in the Alumni Fund Report, still stands: "And it will be long—long even after the peace—before the University's services, so wholly and wholeheartedly committed to the war, return to normal . . . The plant (that's a more practical way to speak of 'hoary walls and ancient halls') has to be preserved, the faculty must not suffer. The demands of today must be met and those of tomorrow anticipated, for —great as has been her wartime service—Brown's most extraordinary opportunity awaits her. She is planning for it, preparing for it, and needs resources for it. All Brown men are united in a determination to be ready for that challenge."

In that spirit, Chairman George T. Metcalf '13 now sounds the appeal for the 1946 Alumni Fund. ◂

Where We Stood

From a National Point of View

NATIONAL STATISTICS, compiled by Joseph E. Bell of Lafayette, showed that, of 121 colleges reporting on their 1944-1945 achievements, 82 topped all previous marks for the amount contributed and 79 reached their highest totals for contributors participating. The results of this survey are copyrighted by the American Alumni Council.

Where did Brown University stand in comparison with the others? In the percentage of alumni who made gifts—17th. (Pembroke was 6th.) In the number of contributors—17th again. In the amount contributed—22nd. In the size of the average gift—52nd.

The following list shows what institutions led Brown in the various categories:

The Brown Night in New York

THE 78TH ANNUAL New York and New Jersey alumni dinner will be held in the Main Ballroom of the Hotel Roosevelt on the evening of Thursday, March 28, according to the report of Robert C. Litchfield '23, chairman of the general committee.

Ambitious plans now under way indicate that the program will have a unique and diversified appeal and every effort is being made by an enthusiastic committee to make this the largest turnout of Brown men ever assembled in New York City.

The accent this year is decidedly away from the conventional. With the idea that Brown men get together primarily to see and meet other Brown men, the program is calculated to produce a parade of Brown leaders in many fields of activity whose remarks in most instances will be brief and to the point. This will not be just another annual dinner; it is to be "Brown night in New York" and will begin with class reunions and cocktails in the foyer of the Ballroom and will continue until even the former denizens of Maxcy Hall are ready to say the last goodnight. A display advertisement elsewhere in this issue sets forth in some detail the arrangements made to date. These are subject to change, but the program when completed, is guaranteed to comprise the most effective and entertaining presentation of Brown men and Brown affairs ever staged in New York.

Brown today has a great story to tell. It will be told in New York, dramatically, by those who have figured in the events of the War just past, by those who stand preeminent in the public affairs of the day, and by those who will build the Brown of tomorrow.

President Wriston has signified his intention to be present and is expected to carry an important message from the University. Toastmaster "Bill" Brown '08 will keep things moving rapidly and will lend much to the occasion with his inimitable wit.

Although at this writing the date (March 28) seems a bit remote, interest in "Brown Night" among New York alumni is already mounting rapidly and it is evident that this affair will have the support of a goodly percentage of the 2,500 Brown men now located in the metropolitan area.

The general committee is as follows: Robert C. Litchfield '23, Chairman, General Committee; Frederick H. Rohlfs '26, Chairman, Finance Committee; James I. Gorton '25, Chairman, Promotion Committee; Jeffrey S. Granger '13, Chairman, Reception Committee; Ralph M. Palmer '10, Chairman, Arrangements Committee; Joseph F. Shea '19, Chairman, Program Committee; Walton M. Smith '24, Chairman, Publicity Committee; William W. Browne, Sr., '08, Toastmaster; John B. Applegate '23, Robert P. Breeding '45, William W. Browne, Jr., '38, Earle E. Eldredge '27, Ernest G. Hapgood, Jr., '31, Jeremiah Holmes '02, Joseph F. Halloran '16, Stephen W. Hopkins '21, James Jemail '18, Clifford P. Ladd '18, Arthur W. Miller '43, G. Denny Moore '11, Paul O'Brien '27, and Joseph E. Peckham '22.

One of the First Funds

BROWN WAS among the first to follow the lead of Yale in setting up an Alumni Fund. It has the fifth oldest Fund among 121 reporting to the American Alumni Council this past year. It was started in 1914, when only Yale, Cornell, Union, and Smith were already in the field.

NOTE: The total of living graduates includes only those for whom the Alumni Office has a good address. Contributions from non-graduates and memorial gifts make it possible to score better than 100%.

*Where the Number of Givers or the Amount Given is starred, the total also reflects income from the Alumni Endowment. In 1944-1945, there were 20 cases where the name of the alumnus would not otherwise have been listed as a contributor; the total of income thus allotted in 1944-1945 was $234.81.

†Includes $279.44 from the Class of 1892 Fund.

How Your Class Rated

IT'S 1907 AGAIN. For the third time in five years the Class has won the Trustees Bowl, with which the best Alumni Fund record is annually recognized.

The 1907 men, for whom George Hurley, Claude R. Branch, and William P. Burnham are agents, were on top the first two years the trophy was awarded. In 1943 Edward H. Weeks spurred his 1893 classmates on to take the prize as a feature of their 50th anniversary, and last year, under Raymond Buss, was the champion on its 25th anniversary. But now 1907 is back there in first place.

Not all the honors went its way. The 1944 winners, 1909, challenged throughout the campaign and came close to repeating but ended in second place. This class has been awarded the Champions' Bowl, which goes to the group which has the most consistently high record year in and year out. 'Ninety-three yields this cup to 1909 after winning it in 1944 when the Trustees for the first time rewarded a class which stays near the top and cannot make spectacular improvement over an already high standard. Improvement is a considerable factor in the fight for the Trustees Bowl.

New contenders for top honors this past year were 1930 in third place (up from 27th) and 1944 in fourth place (up from 53rd. Harold P. Carver takes the bow along with his classmates in 1930, while the 1944 showing is all the more remarkable in that it had no official Fund agents. So many of its members were in the armed services that it was not aggressively solicited, but the response speaks highly for its spirit, loyalty, and early understanding of the Alumni Fund idea.

Other classes in the top 10 were: 1900, 1905, 1943, 1898, 1910, and 1918. In addition, the awards committee (consisting of William A. Graham 16, Lewis S. Milner 02, and Richmond H. Sweet 26, cited the leading class in each Brown decade. These were: 1886, 1898, 1907, 1910, 1925, 1930, 1944.

The ranking beyond the first 10 was as follows: 11—1925, 12—1919, 13—1892, 14—1921, 15—1936, 16—1901, 17—1886 and 1917, 19—1923, 20—1897, 21—1926, 22—1915, 23—1933, 24—1893, 25—1920 and 1942, 27—1941, 28—1940, 29—1899, 30—1913, 31—1908, 32—1879, 33—1922, 34—1939 and 1888, 36—1878, 37—1935, 38—1932, 39—1880, 40—1912, 41—1937, 42—1911, 43—1928, 44—1934, 45—1887, 46—1914, 47—1884, 48—1904 and 1906, 50—1881 and 1889, 52—1894, 53—1924, 54—1902, 55—1938, 56—1882 and 1916, 58—1929, 60—1927, 61—1891, 62—1883 and 1884, 64—1931, 65—1895, 66—1896, 67—1890.

Ranged by decades, the classes finished in the following order:

Before 1900: 1886, 1888, 1878, 1880, 1887, 1884, 1881, 1889, 1882, 1883, 1884.

1890-1899: 1898, 1892, 1897, 1893, 1899, 1894, 1891, 1895, 1896, 1890.

1900-1909: 1907, 1909, 1900 and 1905 (tied), 1901, 1908, 1906 and 1904 (tied), 1902, 1903.

1910-1919: 1910, 1918, 1919, 1917, 1915, 1913, 1912, 1911, 1914, 1916.

1920-1929: 1925, 1921, 1923, 1926, 1920, 1922, 1928, 1924, 1929, 1927.

1930-1939: 1930, 1936, 1933, 1939, 1935, 1932, 1937, 1934, 1938, 1931.

1940-1944: 1944, 1943, 1942, 1941, 1940.

Factors upon which the judges based the competition were: the percentage of the class contributing, based on the number of living grads; the percentage of increase in the number contributing; the percentage of increase in the amount given; the percentage of quota raised; and the improvement in percentage of quota raised.

Minah Goes to Yale

THE RESIGNATION of Theodore W. Minah, manager of the Brown University Dining Rooms for five years, was announced Nov. 1 by Dr. Wriston. Lt. Comdr. Minah has been on leave of absence since May, 1942, when he entered the Navy as a Lt.(jg) and became Commissary Officer of the Naval Receiving Station, Boston, in charge of feeding 20,000 men.

Minah has begun work in the position of Assistant Director of the University Dining Halls at Yale, whose 14 units are located in each of the Colleges and in the Graduate and Divinity Schools. He was released from the Navy in November.

Eighteen months overseas in the European Theatre where he had charge of 10 widely scattered messes at Fleet Air Wing Seven, Mr. Minah received a commendation for this work. He is a graduate of the University of New Hampshire and of the Hotel Administration School at Cornell.

The Endowment Grows

A JUNIOR PARTNER of the Alumni Fund is the Alumni Endowment, which during the past year added four-fold the number of names previously listed. Its total in January of 1946 was $9,035.63 in the name of 157 individuals. This phase of the Alumni Fund makes it possible for one to give to capital in the same way the Alumni Fund encourages giving to current income, both to the benefit of Brown University.

The yearly united offering of the Alumni Fund from thousands of Brown men dwarfs the modest but satisfying start which the Endowment has made in three years time. And the annual campaign will continue to overshadow the capital fund indefinitely since there is no desire to detract from the importance of the current appeal.

Yet, the Alumni Endowment has its place. Just as the aggregate of individual gifts makes each Alumni Fund total impressive and effective, in the same way a bequest gains dignity and force, whatever its size by being added to others. The modest legacy thus becomes more plausible.

By agreement with the University, the Alumni Endowment is set up as a permanent fund, to be held and administered by the University as a part of its general investment pool, getting the benefit of its fine management. (Last year University funds earned 4.25%.) The income which is properly attributable to the Alumni Endowment each year is added to the ordinary contributions for the current Alumni Fund. A bequest or gift to the Alumni Endowment thus earns its annual income and, added to the Alumni Fund, increases by that much the Alumni Fund's unrestricted gift to Brown.

The original thought was that the Alumni Endowment would principally attract bequests. But it was apparent that there were other incentives for gifts to the Alumni Endowment. Our very first gift came from a man who felt he was creating his own memorial. "Ordinarily I would feel that the principal of such a small gift should be made immediately available for expenditure for current needs. But I am making this addition to endowment for a sentimental objective, for the purpose of perpetuating my annual contribution to the Alumni Fund." Obviously, a person whose motive is to capitalize his customary annual gift cannot achieve such a purpose with too small a gift unless there are later additions. Members of the class of 1908 started on a program of this sort, in addition to gifts to the current campaign adding 112 names to the endowment roster last year.

The Trustees of the Brown Alumni Fund do not wish to lessen the vitality of the annual appeal, but the Alumni Endowment nevertheless makes a commended project within the Alumni Fund structure for the man who is thoughtful about the future as well as provident for the imperative present.

With $5,215.61 added to the Alumni Endowment in 1944-1945, the total on June 30, 1945 was $8,675.63. The income earned by the Endowment Fund during the fiscal year was $234.81.

As was the case a year ago, when the first income from the Alumni Endowment was reported, the names of the donors or the persons memorialized appear in the regular roster of current givers with those of their classmates. The income is pro-rated for inclusion in class totals as well.

OLDEST GRADUATE of Brown University is George F. Weston '78 of San Jose, Calif. Next month's issue will have a story in compliments to our senior alumnus.

Brunonians Far and Near

STEPHEN O. METCALF has honored the memory of his son-in-law, Dr. Murray S. Danforth, and his grandson, Lt. Stephen M. Danforth '43, by subscribing $250,000 to the R. I. Hospital Building Fund for a memorial orthopedic clinic and surgical clinic in the outpatient department and a social service suite.

Miss Helena Hope Gammell, granddaughter of William Gammell, is a member of the new class at Pembroke College. She will make her debut with her sister, Miss Elwyn Gammell, next summer at her parents' home in East Greenwich.

Charles F. Butterworth's address is 2047 County St., Somerset, Mass.

1879

1880

Comdr. Arthur W. Howe, Jr., USNR, informs the Alumni Office that his father is living at 7921 Germantown Ave., Philadelphia.

1881

THE SYMPATHETIC THOUGHTS of all Brown men were with former Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes when they read of the death of his wife in Washington, Dec. 6, 1945. She was a descendant of Elder William Brewster of the Mayflower company and the daughter of the lawyer with whom the future Secretary of State was associated as young junior partner in the firm of Carter and Hughes. Her death came after an illness of several weeks, one day after their 57th wedding anniversary. In Washington she had been a retiring member of an important household, but many Brown men recall her gracious presence at occasional Commencement on College Hill. Charles Evans Hughes, Jr., Brown 1909, is, like his father, a member of the Brown Corporation. Charles Evans Hughes III was a Brown graduate in 1937, and another grandson, Henry Stuart Hughes was an instructor here before going into military service.

1882

To Dr. William H. Tolman the Alumni Office extends its sincere sympathy on the death of his wife, Anna, July 8. Mrs. Tolman was active as a social betterment leader and started safety campaigns in New York schools. She spent many years in Europe with her husband.

William A. Francis, formerly residing in Florida, is now at 14 Ash Street, Exeter, N. H.

1883

Ens. William B. Moore, USNR, and Mrs. Moore of Santiago, Chile, recently visited our classmate Mr. Walter W. Burnham and his wife, who are the grandparents of Mrs. Moore.

1884

Susan M. Metcalf, widow of Manton Bradley Metcalf, died in New York after a lengthy illness. She was active with many charitable institutions and was a member of the Colony Club of New York.

The Dates for Commencement

THERE HAS BEEN a feeling all through the war that the first Commencement after the Victory would see the greatest reunion of Brown men in history. That feeling seems justified as the classes begin their plans and the Associated Alumni reserves its place in the Commencement program.

Commencement Day will be June 17, a Monday, with the traditional march down the Hill, graduation, and Sayles Hall meeting. The weekend will begin with a big alumni dinner on Friday evening, June 14, with seating by classes and adjournment in time for the revival of Class Night and the Victory illumination of University Hall.

Prescott Folwell, editor of Public Works Magazine, has offered to send on some souvenirs of the inter-class boat race June 2, 1883, which would be most welcome. One item was an old badge awarded as a prize to members of the winning crew, a trophy awarded by the late M. J. Harson '84 to stimulate a revival of interest in rowing at Brown, which had lapsed for several years. The race was won by 1885. Mr. Folwell recalls that he and Hermon Garey Bumpus '84 measured the course along the railroad track on the other side of the Seekonk River.

1886

Dr. Allan H. Willett, graduate and former instructor in political economy at Brown, is retired and residing at 2850 West Beach Boulevard, Biloxi, Miss.

1887

U. S. Senator Theodore Francis Green flew to Central and South America late in the summer to inquire into the problems of reconversion from war to peace. In November he was prepared to fly to Europe in the interests of Newport, R. I., which sought in vain to become the headquarters of the United Nations Organization.

Howard P. Quick has finished his work as Signal Corps inspector in the vicinity of New Haven and Bristol, R. I., and has returned after three years to his home: 125 Eaglecroft Rd., Westfield, N. J. This fall the Providence Journal devoted a gravure page to his athletic prowess. Like his classmate, Senator Green, Mr. Quick likes nothing better than a good, fast game of tennis, his favorite sport for 61 years. Mr. Quick's other interests were summarized as follows: "73 years a draftsman, designer, engineer and visualizer, 56 years a bridge and transportation developer, 63 years a singer in choirs, choruses and glee clubs, 55 years a bicycle rider, 55 years a photographer, artist, and writer for publications, 50 years a member of the American Society of Engineers."

Henry W. Pinkham has moved from Newton Centre to 219 Savin Hill Ave., Dorchester 25, Mass.

1889

George Preston Grant, Jr., is now living at 73 Main St., Concord, Mass. The Colonial Inn in Concord is his present business address.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Rathbun celebrated their golden anniversary Oct. 9 with a dinner party at the Hope Club. Among the out-of-town guests were Chester A. Cook '91 and Mrs. Cook from Evanston, Ill., and the widow of our classmate, George E. Warren, from Boston.

Rev. William T. Green, D.D., pastor of the Natick Baptist Church in Rhode Island, has been re-elected president of the Pawtuxet Valley Visiting Nurse and Anti-Tuberculosis Association.

Mrs. Clara Learned Dealey, widow of Prof. James Q. Dealey, for many years head of the Department of Political Science at Brown, died in Providence Jan. 5, 1946. She had returned to the city after the death of her husband in Texas eight years ago. Two sons are William L. Dealey '13 and Lt. Col. James Q. Dealey, Jr., '20.

Joseph N. Ashton, formerly Professor of Musical History and Theory at Brown, and Lecturer in Music at Wellesley College, is the author of "Music in Worship," now in its third printing.

At a special meeting of the Pawtucket Medical Association, to mark the 50 years since its inauguration, Dr. James L. Wheaton of 164 Broadway, received with a scroll, signed by the 42 doctors present at the meeting, in commemoration of his 50 years as a member.

Rev. Charles A. Meader, our class president, died in his 77th year Oct. 12, 1945 in Providence. Bishop Perry, an honorary member of the class, paid high homage to his ministry as Episcopal missionary and rector in Rhode Island. Mr. Meader had retired as rector of St. Luke's Church, East Greenwich, three years ago after 17 years there. In addition to Mrs. Meader, a son Robert O. Meader '23 and a daughter Mrs. Robert L. Abbey survive him. Ushers at the funeral in St. John's Cathedral included his classmates Dr. Wheaton, William H. Paine, Frank L. Hinckley, Edwin A. Barrows, and Merrick L. Goff. We regret that there is not space to acknowledge here all the services Mr. Meader performed on behalf of the class and Brown.

The Brockton Enterprise on Nov. 8 featured a story on Dr. Arthur Loring Beals, who rounded out in that month a half-century of active practice in Brockton. He is a former city physician and was school physician for 39 years until his resignation in 1939. "A favorite with the young people, the doctor has made many friends among the youngsters whom he met in school work," the writer said. The account described his many civic and Masonic activities. He is a past president of the Plymouth County Medical Association.

Four of the "boys" (average age, not quite 69) of the class met at The Maridor at Framingham, Mass., for dinner and a reunion on Monday evening, Nov. 5. Present were Austin H. Fitts of Natick, Leonard M. Patton of Milton, B. O. Pillsbury of Needham and Charles P. Roundy of Walpole, all in Massachusetts. Topics of conversation ranged over college reminiscences, achievements of classmates, health, retirement, inflation, labor. The prospective 45th reunion of the class to be held in June, 1946, (omitted in June, 1945, because of war conditions), was looked forward to with keen anticipation. In the words of one of those present "the dinner was a very congenial success—served to bolster up our long established friendships." The spark plug that generated the power that brought together the gathering was 1900's own "Rare Ben" (Pillsbury).

Dr. Waldo G. Leland, Director of the American Council of Learned Societies, was a guest speaker at the 1945 public conference on "The United States and the Post War World," held at the University of Michigan during the summer.

Your traveling transcriber ran into Charlie Southworth the other day going to New York and he reported that Spike Southworth, better known as Winthrop M. Southworth, Jr., has been traveling all over the world on a job for the Budget Commission which, as near as I can make out, is mixed up with the Army-Navy F.B.I. and he even had a little Franklin D. Roosevelt behind him. Spike has had an interesting career and apparently has done an excellent job. Charlie added there had been an addition to the Southworth family, but the sex of the addition is unknown.

Mike Snyder blew in the other day from overseas and went with the writer to the Parker House, there to indulge in swordfish which Mike said was excellent eating compared to the things he has seen overseas. Mike looks in excellent condition and is heading back to Michigan to take up research work in biology, more specifically bacteriology. While he is not full of praise for all the things he has learned in the Army, he admitted he was glad it was over and he was going back to play around in his laboratory. Mike saw plenty of action, being attached to the General Hospital Unit that was nearly evacuated as the Germans rolled through Bastogne Gap. Mike said they did not know they were close to the front lines until they found they were on the advance line one day with the anti-aircraft guns being set up around the hospital.

The New York papers announced the return of Renwick B. Dimond, better known as Dick Dimond, to the securities business. He is with Estabrook & Co. in their New York office at 40 Wall St.

Had an interesting letter from Don Flynn, who has had a grand promotion. He was made Division Manager of the Kansas City Division, which covers the States of Missouri, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska and Colorado. Don adds a cryptic, "About time, too". He reports also that he is looking forward to the next Reunion which he definitely hopes to attend. Apparently the Ethyl Corporation is moving along in good shape, particularly through the increased use of diesel motors for buses and trucks.

Capt. Jay D. Mann, Albany physician, is another winner of the Bronze Star, awarded in the NEI for work in direct support of combat operations. He was chief of medical service in a station hospital last summer.

On the train home last fall, Thurlow B. Bearse was thoughtful enough to write us a card to say his terminal leave would be up Nov. 2. We imagine his Legion of Merit helped "promote" him to civilian ranks, as he put it, and he is in the hardware business in Hyannis, Mass., where he lives in Sundial Village. He was officer in charge of LCT26 and won the Legion of Merit in the Tunisian campaign and a commendation during the initial assault on Sicily, plus end runs in North Sicily. He was in on the assault at Salerno but was sent home to be an instructor at Little Creek, Va., before the Normandy landings. Among Brunonians he met were: Ed Gilman '35 of the armed guard ("when it was still hot at Bone"); Charlie B. White '36, radar operator; John D. Peterson '34, recognition officer, L. E. While Lt. David FitzRaldolph Howe was still with the 380th Engineer Combat Battalion on Luzon, Carolyn Alden Howe was born in Washington, D. C., Sept. 22.

The highest decoration which Haiti can award—the Order of Merit and Honor—was bestowed on Capt. Saul Blatman, Army Sanitary Corps, this fall for his part in the campaign to rid the island of the malaria mosquito. Blatman went to Washington right after graduation as a Government biologist and was detailed to the Institute of Inter-American Affairs in 1942. He put in two years in Haiti for surveys, research, and the actual control work.

Staff Sgt. Richard W. Horton won the Bronze Star while with the 7th Army as a member of the 6th Corps' Special Services Section. He's now back with Manufacturers' Mutual Fire Insurance Co. as field engineer.

Lt. Clark T. Foster was on his way to Japan with the 46th MG Hq. & Hq. Co. when he wrote us in the early fall.

Joseph Gerace, now living at 45 Dunedin St., Cranston, ended five years' service with the Army Nov. 8. Sixteen months were spent as a navigator in the Air Corps in the Tunisian, Sicilian, and Italian campaigns.

1941

W. H. Collins was in the hospital for six months this past summer and fall, recovering from bad burns sustained when two Kamikazes struck and sunk his ship, the USS Bates on May 25. He's now at 54 Sturtevant Road, Quincy 69, Mass.

1st Lt. Ronald A. Norton paid the Alumni Office a visit during his terminal leave, which ended Dec. 24.

Pvt. Arnold R. Eggart has been assigned to Mason General Hospital, Brentwood, N. Y., as a social worker. He was Boy's Secretary for the New Brunswick YMCA and Youth Director for the Atlantic City YMCA before the war.

Lou Duesing, who flew with the ATC during the war, is now a student salesman with International Business Machines in Providence.

Lt. Austin N. Volk was commanding officer of a fleet of ships which visited Cincinnati on the Ohio River on Navy Day. He took his own LST (391) down the east coast from Little Creek, Va., through the Gulf, picked up five other ships at Baton Rouge, and then proceeded up the Mississippi, reaching his destination four days ahead of schedule. He saw 14 months of active service in the Southwest Pacific as a flotilla commander, but never had such an audience as the 15,000 visitors in Ohio.

Lt. Comdr. Joseph R. Weisberger stopped in on his way to Boston for discharge right after Christmas. His record included two years in Australia and New Guinea in underwater defense, a year in Norfolk, and then several months in personnel work in Japan. He expects to be back on the campus as a student in March.

Lt. Harrison Goff's ship, wrecked on a coral reef by the two big typhoons, has been decommissioned. Fourteen weeks in the battle of Okinawa, he holds a citation for work as commanding officer of "a close-in fire support ship . . . demonstrating outstanding leadership and skill." His rocket fire into the shore installation at Okinawa Shima was "effective and accurate", and the ship destroyed a Jap aircraft and suicide attack boat.

Bob Priestley, with an Army discharge dated Dec. 1, was a recent visitor to the Alumni Office with Bill Crooker. While in service Bob coached football at Lowry Field, and 8th Air Force Headquarters in England, using the T formation he learned playing pro football with the Philadelphia Eagles.

Crooker's terminal leave was to last until Jan. 4. He'd been in England for the last two years as weather man, a Major toward the end.

Joe Cook, Jr., '43 class treasurer, and 1st Lt. Flint Ricketson of the Marines visited the Alumni Office the middle of December. Joe is working for his degree in Business Administration at the University of Pennsylvania and living at 3739 Locust St., Philadelphia 4. Mrs. Cook is receptionist at College Hall on the Penn campus. Ricketson has been discharged from the Marines, and gave us 1537 Beacon St., Brookline, Mass., as his mailing address; but said he would be in Pittsburgh working for Carnegie Steel "as soon as I can steal a white shirt from my brother." The brother is Daniel, in college with the class of '49, and also a Phi Delt.

Donald Henderson is now a student in the Dept. of Mineralogy at Harvard and living at 69 Oxford St., Cambridge.

We have now learned that Lt. Roy W. Bistline, missing from May 7, 1944, to April 13, 1945, after a flight over Berlin, was with the Underground in Holland during the entire time. Three other members of the crew were Evadees while five were taken prisoners. All, however, have returned home safely.

Bill Weston, an announcer at WFCI in Pawtucket, had a prize play aired over the Columbia network the end of September.

Lt. Kung-Chih Wang, who just recently received his commission in the U. S. Marine Corps, visited the campus one day while home on leave. He expects to be sent to China soon.

Stan Adkins dropped in at the Alumni Office in October. He had been promoted to Lt. (jg) and was working at the Sperry Gyroscope Co., Inc. on Long Island.

Through Ellis Fuqua and Doug's mother, we have learned of the death of Lt. Douglas Felber, USAAC, on Sept. 17, 1944. Doug, a pilot in the Troop Carrier Command, had dropped paratroopers of the 82nd Division at the battle of Arnheim, and was returning when his transport was shot down in flames over West Holland.

Ellis also reports that Hal DeBona is now out of the Army, was married in December, and plans to attend Northwestern.

Gurdon S. Pulford has been discharged from the Army and is now in his third year as a medical student at Michigan.

Highlights of the 1945 Alumni Fund

GRAND TOTALS: The number of participants was the largest in the Alumni Fund's 32 years 4,752. The amount given was also a record—$75,623.79, an increase of $9,620.92.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: 466 gifts were in memory of deceased alumni, made by families, friends, and classmates and aggregating $2,199.84.

REGULAR GIVERS: 3625 who had also contributed in 1944 gave $65,176.90 in 1945. Of them, 672 increased their gifts by $9,446.47.

NEW CONTRIBUTORS: 1107, who gave $9,932.64, had not been donors in 1944—many had never given before.

FROM THE SERVICES: More than $10,000 was given by or for men in the armed forces, including 186 gifts for $1,476.00 from their families at home.
